SUMMARY

I'm a full-stack developer currently building learning management systems, ERP tools, and Next.js CMS platforms at Hallow Tech, where I've worked since May 2026. I work across React, React Native, and Node.js to ship both web and mobile products.

EXPERIENCE

Full-Stack Developer · Hallow Tech

May 2026 – Present

- Develop features for a Learning Management System (LMS), an ERP platform, and a Next.js CMS
- Build UI and application logic using React and Next.js
- Collaborate with the team on production codebases and code reviews

Full-Stack Developer · NPTS Extension — Capstone Project

Jun 2025 – Jun 2026

- Designed and developed a cross-platform restaurant menu management system end-to-end, covering requirements, architecture, implementation, testing, and AWS deployment
- Built a web + mobile system with a React admin interface and a React Native mobile app, backed by a shared Node.js/Express REST API
- Implemented core APIs for menu management, authentication, and order processing, with a responsive UI delivering real-time menu updates
- Practiced AWS deployment fundamentals and Git-based workflows including branching and pull-request reviews
- Worked in an Agile Scrum environment, contributing to sprint planning, stand-ups, and iterative feature refinement
